MORNINGSIDE WINS ANOTHER.

W. C. WHITNEY'S FILLY TAKES THE HANDICAP AT SARATOGA.

John E. Madden's Yardarm Again Shows His Heels to a Good Lot of Youngsters -Roxane Defeats Gunfire -Wild Pirate a Good Thing-Scoffer, 60 to 1, Wins.

SARATOGA, Aug. 8.—The track was heavy gain to-day, but in spite of numerous with drawals, good-sized fields were handled at the post. With Advance Guard and Ethics among those scratched from the handicap for all ages at a mile and a furlong, W. C. Whitney's Morningside was figured an easy winner and was accordingly made a 9 to 10 favorite. Caughnawaga, however, was well backed at 3 to 2 while Lanceman was pounded down from 15 to 1 to eights. Mr. Whitney's near throwing the race away by easing up too soon. As it turned out he had to ride Morningside with his greatest vigor in the last few jumps to win by half a length from John E. Madden evidently made no mistake when he purchased the two-year-old Henry of Navarre colt Yardarm from August Belmont. Last Monday Yardarm from August the first time in Madden's colors and won. To-day he ran away from a good field of youngsters in the third race at five and a haif furlongs and won pulled up by fifteen lengths in 109 Yardarm took up 118 pounds and was an equal second choice with Monte Carlo at 7 to 2. Capt. Arnold, played by John A. Drake and others, being the favorite. Red Knight, also substantially played at fives, easily took the place by three lengths over Monte Carlo, who beat the favorite by a head. The talent scored quite a success in the first trace, in which sixteen platers covered six furlongs. Ordaning, the favorite rushed to the front at the first furlong pole and to the front at the first furlong pole and to the front at the first furlong pole and to the front at the first furlong pole and to the front at the first furlong pole and others, beingly romped home with after that he simply romped home with the money. finished for the first furlones, and the favorite, a for the first furlones, and the favorite at the top of the stretch and, drawing away, won easily by two lengths. Conundrum was the favorite at three, with Nevermore played for the fifth race, at five and a half furlones, fifteen ran. J. Rubino's Elliott was the favorite at threes, with Nevermore played for the favorite himself and finished favorite at threes, with Nevermore played down to 8 to 1 s Belmont. Last Monday Yardarm ran for the first time in Madden's colors and won.

won easily by two lengths Conundrum was three lengths in frost of Moor, the rank outsider at 40 to 1.

Out of twenty-four maidens originally carded for the fifth race, at five and a half furlongs, fifteen ran. J. Rubino's Elliott was the favorite at threes, with Nevermore played down to 8 to 1 second choice. But Elliott could not untrack himself and finished far back in the ruck. In a driving finish Scoffer, a 60 to 1 shot, beat Nevermore by a head, with Catechise a length behind, the winner leading all the way. But Nevermore was disqualified by the stewards because O'Connor, when he came back to the scales, was found to be two and a half pounds short of the weight. Catechise, therefore, got second money, while third went to Sweet Alice, a 40 to 1 shot.

Mr. Whitney's three-year-old filly Gunfire was a hot favorite to win the last race, for mares and geddings at a mile, but after she had led through the stretch Roxane caught her near the wire and beat her by a length and a half. The winner was recently

R. L. Hedges, secretary of the St. Louis American League club, has challenged Frank Robison for a series of post season games for a $2,500 cup. Hedges says he is willing to back his team for $50,000 and not stage money either.

There are no better catchers in the League than Kiling of the Chicago club, and it is no wonder the American League has been trying to get him. His throwing beats anything seen here this season and he is a good sticker and base runner. Another of his accomplishments is pool playing, at which is a star.

"When McGraw was with St. Louis," says Stanley Robison. "I noticed that even when at practice he would not hit at the ball unless it came to suit him. Many players will nit at anything in practice when there is nothing at stake, but not so with McGraw, and I think that is one reason why he has such a good eye and gets his base on balls so often. Another thing that helps him is his short stature and another the fact that his reputation for getting his base often makes the pitchers more anxious when he comes to the plate."

Two victories each for New York and Philadelphia and one apiece for Winnipeg and Baltimore was the result of the opening day's work. The most keenly contested event of the day was the eight-shell race, which had six starters. For almost a mile it was impossible to pick the leader. The pace up to that suge had been killing. The Pennsylvania barke, Fairmounts and Wachusetts fought out the remaining half mile. The three crews dipped almost together until the last quarter, when the barke boys pulled away and won by about a length. This proved a battle royal between the Canucks and the Vespers. Rowing in the finest form seen thus far in the regatta the Winnipegs gradually pulled away from their Quaker opponents. At the half they led by three parts of a length. When handle and after a few returns the home pair seemed to get somewhat accustomed to it, and both Ward and Davis each made a clean pass on their first returns after deuce had been called and the second game also went fa the home pair. With Davis serving, the next game followed in quick order, an ace on service, and a clever smash by Ward turning the tide in favor of Davis and Ward The American pair took the set, 6-3. The second set was the turning point of the match, and it seemed reasonably certain that the Americans would have scored the victory if they could have won that second set. Three beautiful passes by R. F. Doherty and an out by Ward gave the challengers the first game, but an ace and two equally clever smashes from the other side tied the score. Again H. L.'s service was pounced on for a game, and the Americans scored by lobbing persistently until they got a chance to get up to the net, and then both smashed well, taking the game to 15. Davis served in the next game and he showed a streak of sensational play. In the fourth game, however, the Americans lost their lead again, Ward serving. One pass by Davis was more than made up by four nets, two from each of the home players, and the score was 3-all. Davis began to show his first signs of distress in the eighth game and Ward kept calling "mine" and smashing lob after lob that the Britishers put up to save his partner as much as possible. He won the game for his side, too, and Davis got a short resting spell, while Ward fought out the lobbing duel with his opponents.

With the score at 4-all, the Britishers captured the next game, but Davis came back with another brilliant streak which netted three successive aces on clean smashes, which, with a netted ball, by R. F. Doherty, gave them a love game, and brought the score up to deuce. In the eleventh game, with Davis serving, the score reached 30-all and vantage out twice, giving the Englishmen two chances to win the set with a stroke. Each time it was Davis who saved the game. The effort was too much for ATLANTIC CITY, Aug. 8.-George Leander of Chicago defeated Joe Nelson, the boy professional, in a ten-mile heat race at the Coliseum to-night. Owing to an accident to his motor Nelson lost the first heat by four laps and the final by one lap. In the second heat Leander was thrown from his wheel by the explosion of a tire and was cut and bruised. WORCESTER, Aug. 8 - Less than half a lap separated Harry Eikes and Howard Freeman at the finish of a twenty-mile motor-paced race at the Coliseum here to-night and Elkes was declared the winner. Elkes's time was 31 minutes 27 3-5 seconds.

YACHTS IN SPANKING BREEZE.

RECORD TIME FROM VINEYARD HAVEN TO PROVINCETOWN.

Leaders in N. Y. Y. C. Squadron Make the Run of Seventy-nine Miles in a Trifle Over 7 Hours-Cornellus Vanderbilt's Rainbow Beats 70-Footers.

PROVINCETOWN, Mass., Aug. 8.—The race of forty yachts of the New York Yacht Club to-day from Vineyard Haven to this port will be on record as the fastest ever sailed, for the winner in the sloop class, Cornelius Vanderbilt's Rainbow, covered the distance, seventy-nine miles, in 7 hours 2 minutes 7 seconds. The Mineola was beaten only minutes 6 seconds in this long run, and the Skinner's schooner Constellation covered the the Corona in 7 hours 2 minutes 35 seconds. This is remarkably fast, even though both wind and tide were fair from the start almost

The breeze was of such strength that it was a crucial test of the spars, rigging, and seaworthy qualities of the yachts. Consider-ing everything, the percentage of accidents was very small. The loss of the schooner Shamrock's foretopmast was the most serious accident of the run. The schooner Mavis also lost a topmast. The schooners Elmina and Muriel sailed a closely contested race. and the former won by only 2 minutes 36 seconds actual time. Unless the time allowance changes the results, the Rainmasted vessels and vawls, also the cup for the winner in Class B, offered by Capt. Royal Phelps Carroll, and the Vice-Commodore's cup. The Corona probably wins both the Commodore's and the Vice-Commodore's cups, and the Elmina gets the cup offered by Cornelius Vanderbilt to the winner in

True to the old legend: "A red sky i the morning, sailors take warning," the sun came up red and angry, the eastern sky was scarlet, and the wind began to pipe from the southeast at once.

At 6 o'clock it was a six-mile breeze. had doubled in strength and by "eight bells" it as blowing fully fifteen miles an hour, and the dark clouds to windward gave every indication that there would be more Skippers and crews ambled out of their bunks at 4 o'clock, hoisted mainsails and sent up headsails in stops, signals were set on the flagship Corona soon after daylight, an-nouncing the harbor start for 5:30 o'clock. This meant the actual start at 6:30 o'clock and that schedule was carried out to the letter. The Regatta Committee, at the invitation of Col. W. Thompson, was quartered on board the Lady Torfrida. That yacht made the starting line at 6:15 by anchoring north of a stake boat placed off East Chop light. First away after the signal for sloops was the Eidolon at 6.31.45. She and all the rest crossed the line on the starboard tack with sheets started a couple of points. Next came the Humma, Effort, Notos, Mira, Hebe and the Altair in that order. Henry F. Lippitt's Weetamoe got away first on the next signal at 6:35:30. The 70-footer Yankee crossed the line forty-three seconds after the gun. then the yawl Caress, Neola, Mineola, Senta, Hester and Rainbow. The last named was 1 minute 25 seconds astern of the Yankee and 51 seconds in the Mineola's wake The schooner signal at 6:40 brought the Agatha across the line first, twenty seconds after the gun. The little Mavis came next, after the gun. The little Mavis came next, then the Katrina, Shamrock, Quickstep, Seneca, Quissetta, Amorita, Elmina, Muriel, Gevalia and Indra. The Elmina led the Muriel by only ten seconds. She had the windward berth. At 6:45 the big schooners came for the line under clouds of canvas. First over was George W. Weld's Chanticleer, at 6:48:10, then the flagship Corona close in her wake, followed by the Constellation, Emerald, Endymion, Iroquois, Mayflower, and Hildegard. At 6:50 came the auxiliaries and square-rigged three-masters. Shenandsh, Ariadne and Intrepid crossed in that order, the last one crossing the line at 6:57:35.

Forty yachts had started in just 25 minutes 50 seconds and a splendid fleet it was of sixteen sloops, twenty-one schooners, and three auxiliaries. From about south southeast the wind was now piping hard. The course from the start to Cross Rip Lightship was east by south three-fourths south, twelve and a quarter miles, making it a close reach. Before half the distance was covered jib topsails and gaff topsails began to come in on the small sloops and schooners. Even the big Shenandoah clewed up and furled her fore topgallant sall. ered jib topsails and gaff topsails began to come in on the small sloops and schooners. Even the big Shenandoah clewed up and furled her fore topgallant sail. The little Notos reefed her mainsail, and the Intrepid set a smaller jib topsail.

The schooner Quickstep had all the wind she could stagger under with four lower sails set. All the yachts in the fleet except perhaps the Shenandoah, Ariadne, and Interpid had their lee rails under. This was exciting racing, and the kind that makes the true yachtsman's heart glad, and that tries spars and rigging to the utmost.

In this first reach of twelve and a quarter miles the Rainbow did some good sailing. She worked out from last to first place. She overhauled both the Mineola and Yankee, and was the first of the 70's to pass Cross Rip Lightship, the Yankee and Mineola being second and third respectively. The other leaders passed in this order and times: Corona, 7:50:00; Constellation, 7:51:30; Elmina, 7:52:00; Muriel, 7:53:00; Hildegarde, 7:53:15; Caress, 7:53:30; Emerald, 7:53:40; Eelin, 7:54:00; Quissetta, 7:54:20; Altair, 7:54:30; Amorita, 7:55:10; Endymion, 7:55:20; Seneca, 7:56:10; Mayflower, 7:59:00.

and she both had to luff to avoid losing their masts. When saugged down to it these three did some great salling in the smooth water less than half a mile from old Cape Cod beach.

three did some great salling in the smooth water less than half a mile from old Cape Cod beach.

The schooners Constellation and Corona meanwhile had come down to four lower salls. These big schooners had to clew down their topsails with the wind almost abeam. Just before Race Point was reached, at 12:55, the Rainbow luffed sharply while her crew trimmed her sheets down for the windward work between that point and the finish, now only fifteen miles away.

There was quite a jump at Race Point and they got the full play of the sea from Boston Bay. The Constellation made her first inshore tack off Race Point at 12:50:00. The Rainbow's first tack to starboard was at 1:08:00, Hugging the beach nearly all the way up to the finish, she made only two tacks, and covered the distance from Race Point in just thirty minutes. The Minecla and Yankee each made two tacks, and the Constellation three.

What a finish that was. It is doubtful if a more spirited one has ever been seen in Boston Bay. Vice-Commodore Bourne's steam yacht Colonial had established the line a mile west of the lighthouse. With her weather side half out of the water, her lee rail buried in a smother of foam, the Rainbow dashed across the finish line, her great white and green huil gleanning in the sunlight as she threw clouds of spray from her weather low.

Only a minde and 25 seconds astern came the Mineola, hugging a small jib topsail which Capt. Barr had set in despera in a few joinutes before to try and close (* gap between his boat and the Rainboy. The Yankee making a brave fight finished anute behind the Mineola. The unofficial tit se of the finish was: Rainbow, 130:15; Min ola, 140:30; kee, 141:30; Constellation, 1**152; Corona, 149:20; Hidegarde, 152:15; Chambeler, 155:00; Endymion, 2:00:00; Emern.d. 2:04:30; Flmina, 2:04:30; Muriel, 2:07:15; Hester, 2:13:50; Marilower, 2:17:50.

GRAY'S GOOD SHOT PUTTING. Brother of Old Champion Puts 12-Pont Sphere 52 Feet 10 Inches.

Local athletes had an opportunity to keep their muscles and wind in tune in the programme of events offered by the C. J. Harvey Association at the Heriem River Park yesterday afternoon. The list contained seven items which attracted all the cracks in active raining and there were some spirited finishes. Championship form was unquestionably exhibited in putting the 12-pound shot and not since the palmy days of George R. Gray ave such high class figures been recorded in open competition. The winner, Joe Gray, sent the sphere the grand distance of 52 feet 10 inches and as he is the younger brother of the ex-champion, those who saw the feat

10 inches and as he is the younger brother of the ex-champion, those who saw the feat were not entirely surprised.

Interest in the track events was most confined to the special half-mile run for the Police, Fire and Post Office departments for which F. Norton Goddard offered the prize, and the mile and a half handicap. In the former event honors were pretty evenly divided, first prize going to the firemen, second to the guardians of the law and order and third to the Post Office William J. Lennon of Engine 37 executed the coup for the fire laddies.
